

DAY 23

“With relationship comes access, and with intimacy comes influence.” – Tommy Tenney

Your task for today is to answer these questions about accepting influence from your partner. Be sure to talk with your partner about what you found.

What is a request your partner has made that you are resistant to?

Ask yourself if the importance behind your resistance to the request, is more important than the significance that the request holds for your partner?